

Coordination of e-Learning activities among the RLMOs and with OIML

Tsuyoshi Matsumoto, APLMF Training Coordinator/Japan at the OIML RLMO RT - Interim Meeting on the 3rd March 2025

Background in the OIML member countries:

- ✓ Online technologies have significantly changed training and removed the barriers among countries.
- ✓ OIML set up an e-Learning Platform and a new Subcommittee on e-Learning under the DTG.

Background in the APLMF:

- ✓ Training programs have been considered an appropriate benefit for the members.
- ✓ The following materials are currently provided.
 - a. Guide documents → Free
 - b. Documents and economy reports at annual Forum Meetings → Mostly free
 - c. Texts, slides, and reports used for training
→ Part of them are shared freely. The participants are provided with full material.
 - d. e-Learning modules on NAWIs and fuel dispensers using the PTB's and Australian platforms
→ Only for the members and the observers (Pacific Islands)
- ✓ Participation in the training courses
→ Only for the members and the observers (Pacific Islands)

Review of the proposals / reports from APLMF regarding e-Learning

RLMO RT in January 2023:

- Proposed three options for sharing e-Learning materials: (1) OIML provides a royalty for the provider, (2) OIML shares a part of the materials, and (3) an RLMO shares the materials only for the members.

RLMO RT in May 2023:

- The situation in APLMF is complex: two modules are provided separately.
- The materials are closely related to the membership.
- The situation is different in each RLMO, and it is difficult to draft a common policy.

RLMO RT in September 2023:

- OIML Member Countries are encouraged to share e-Learning materials.
- The materials should be provided voluntarily and without charge.

RLMO RT in January 2024:

- Reviewed Resolutions of the 58th CIML and the 30th APLMF.
- Reconfirmed that the ultimate objective would be unlimited sharing.

RLMO RT in June 2024:

- Proposed that the materials should be provided voluntarily and free of charge.
- Reconfirmed to continue a discussion in OIML and APLMF.

RLMO RT in September 2024:

- The ultimate objective would be the unlimited sharing of the materials.
- Supported CIML Resolution 2023/23. → OIML Members are encouraged to share information.
- Hoped to maintain the copyright of the materials.
- Continued discussions in the EC (Executive Committee) and at the Forum Meeting

Current situation and proposals from APLMF

Discussions and proposals from APLMF:

- ✓ APLMF considers that an ultimate objective for the OIML and RLMOs will be the unlimited sharing of e-Learning materials.
- ✓ APLMF supports Resolution No. 2024/22 of the 59th CIML, which encourages all OIML Members to collaborate by providing information.
- ✓ APLMF hopes the OIML Platform will be maintained by mutual collaboration with all RLMOs, not one-way. ← We also hope to utilise materials.
- ✓ The EC (Executive Committee) proposed an option for other RLMOs:
 - (1) Full materials could be shared with a utilization fee, and/or
 - (2) Participation in training could be accepted with a registration fee.
